I God created heaven and earth . I created the entire universe. The will of creation of all and everything eternally was in my mind . In other words I always wanted to create man/woman. However ipso facto I always wanted to destroy any one and any thing if I God so decree and elect.

I God decreed that only Jews get Eretz Israel . The Jews for the last 2000 years were at the mercy of the Europeans. They remained in the land of the Europeans only at the pleasure of the Europeans. They were discriminated against. They were shut up in ghettos. They were slandered and libeled . They were robbed raped tortured killed and expelled all at the pleasure of the Europeans. England the pioneer in human rights with the issuance of the Magna Carta stipulated by deeds if not by written proclamation that the Magna Carta was a selective document. It applied only to those individuals whom the ruling powers elect to have it apply. Certainly the Jew was not one to whom it applied.

England the Amolek of the Europeans was the first to banish the Jews after robbing raping their women and making a pogrom at York and killing the Jews seeking shelter in a castle.

They were banished after having all their possessions stolen . Not until 1600s Cromwell in need of Jewish money and talent agreed to permit the Sefardic Jews from Holland to reenter.

The Jews in England France and Germany during the Crusades 1100s-1300s suffered 100,000 casualties. They were robbed raped tortured burned alive killed by the messengers of peace on earth good will to all men-except Jews .

These messengers and agents of the Father the Son and the Holy Ghost did not hesitate to kill only Jews and Muslims ;
but other Christians who dared challenge their hegemony to power. Power was to be vested and monopolized only by a select band of nobles and strongmen. The New Testament and Christianity was tailored measured and cut to fit the pattern that they elected .

The version of the New Testament that exists today was first given birth at the Synod of the 500s- 500 years after the crucifixion . The Jew became the anti-Christ and responsible for the Crucifixion 500 years after it occurred. The Version of the New Testament in our possession today was given birth 500 years after the crucifixion. This occurred after all the dissenting versions were burned and the writers of the dissenting versions killed or banned from reading. The writings of Origen a great Christian Theologian living in the 100s or 200s were declared heresy and burned.

In the year 1100 the first Crusade targeted , not Muslims and Jews , but fellow Christians.

One million Albaganese who lived in the South of France-men women children old people cripples infants -all were exterminated by order of the holy Pope. They deserved extermination because they questioned the divine authority of the Pope and his bishops.

In 1185 The Greek Orthodox slaughtered hundreds of thousands Roman Catholics.

In 1215 a Crusade was declared against Greek Catholics. Every man woman child old people infants were exterminated. All the Eastern Roman Empire under Greek Orthodox was conquered.

It took many years until the Greek Orthodox managed to free themselves from the Roman Catholic invaders and liberate their land. The Greek Orthodox were so weakened by the internal strife between Roman Catholics and Greek Orthodox that they were ripe to be destroyed and the Muslim Turks conquered and put an end to the Eastern Roman Empire in the 1400s.

Then the Crusades began against the Muslims. It was not passion to sanctify the name of the Father Son and Holy Ghost that motivated the Crusaders. What energized them was blatant theft greed and lust for free sex -rape and legalized theft murder. All of this with the blessing of the holy Roman Catholic Church who absolved all volunteers for the Crusades of all their sins that they committed . The civil government absolved the volunteers from all their past crimes . They were given a clean slate. Many Criminals were released from prison and were free men if they would volunteer for the Crusades. For the leaders the Crusades represented an opportunity to gain glory power and new territory the lands the Muslims conquered since 675 Palestine Syria Egypt The Eastern Roman empire North Africa. However the Crusaders concentrated in Palestine. Their temporary victories only netted them control of Jerusalem and some adjacent areas bordering Jerusalem. These victories were soon reversed by the might of the Muslim armies . A Christian King defeated and captured by his Muslim OPPONENT WAS GRANTED FREEDOM UNDER THE CONDITION THAT HE LAEVE AND NOT FIGHT AGAIN. WHEN HE VIOLATED THE TERMS OF HIS RELEASE WAS CAPTURED AGAIN, HE WAS BEHEADED.

At the culmination of the Crusades , the first inquisition was enacted to quell a rebellion of former Crusaders to share some of the wealth stolen from inhabitants during the wars as well as privileges and power. The defendants were tortured and burned alive without any recourse. Hundreds of thousands were thus put to death by burning at the stake. These were individuals who accepted and risked their lives for the honor of the Father Jesus the Son and the Holy Ghost. Thus the hypocrisy and proof that the hatred of the Jew was not because the Jew did not accept the Trinity. The hatred instilled in the masses was motivated because the Jew had money that the Christians wanted to steal. Religion was used as the means and excuse to de legitimize the Jew transform him into a sub human as the anti Christ and legitimize stealing raping killing the Jew and exiling him when he no longer served useful. This concept is sketched in blood over the last 1500 years of the Jewish experience at the hands of the Holy Roman Catholic Church. This concept was put into print by the father of the Protestant revolt against Roman Catholic Church Martin Luther In his two books written shortly before his death - “The Jew and his Lies ”and “Hashem Hameforesh “

Martin Luther wanted to show the Christian world that although he was a reformer against the evils instituted by the Roman Catholic Church over 1000 years , he nevertheless was not an iota less an anti-Semite. As a matter of fact he was a greater anti Semite. As a matter of fact it was considered fashionable to compete who was the greater anti-Semite. Unless an author would not vent his animosity toward Jews he would not be able to publish. When it came to defaming Jews truth was not permitted.

Fiction became truth as long as such fiction defamed and hurt Jews. Not only it was legitimate to write lies and slander about Jews, if one did not do so , he was punished by being murdered.

Thus when the Nazis punished any one saving Jews by being shot , they were merely restoring the 1500 year tradition.

Luther introduced reforms and put the Roman Catholic Church on notice that they no longer had a monopoly or a direct communication with God the Father Jesus the Son and the Holy Ghost. This was declaration that started the war of Protestants against Roman Catholics that lasted from 1530-1650. Millions of innocent men women old people infants cripples were slaughtered on each side. Again it was not a fight for the glory of the Father the Son and the Holy Ghost. It was a war for lust possessions and power.

After the 120 year Roman Catholic wars the following countries entered a new adventure . England France Germany Russia Spain and Portugal and Italy. They set out to conquer North CENTRAL South AMERICA Africa the \Middle Est India Pakistan Burma China Australia New Zealand . These countries of a combined population of 400 million subjugated raped tortured massacred an ~~a~~ 10 times their own geographical area and populated by two billion innocent human beings. They burned their books and destroyed their culture . Their crime was covered up under the facade that these animals -the Europeans - were bringing salvation to the ignorant natives . When they burned their victims they were saving their souls. Or else they were teaching the ignorant natives the higher wisdom of the master race - the Europeans.

When the Jews finally established Israel as result of mine -God's intervention the “ the civilized ~~mas~~tre race "the Europeans helped by Kerry and US president Obama who dispatched his Secretary of State John Kerry are trying to force Israel to agree to abandon the Jordan Valley and cede all of historical Israel and create a never existent Palestinian State. Thus to guarantee the destruction of Jewish Israel and ipso fact Jordan. They are trying to destroy the freedom of the Jews and God's rule and decree.

The Jews likewise were exiled from France and Germany in the 1300s after enduring pogroms and being the victims of blood libels that they murdered Christians and used their blood to bake Matzos. Hundreds of thousands Jews were tortured burned alive and murdered at the whim of these “civilized” believers in God the Father Jesus Christ the Son and the Holy Ghost - on these false charges.

The Jews of Spain were banished in 1492 . The Jews of Portugal were banished in 1497. England and Europe were Juden Rein from 1290-1650.

There existed nothing officially written in 1290 proclaiming the banishment of the Jews.

England to this date January 2014 has the smallest number of Jews of the entire Europe . This is not by chance but by design.

Finally in 1948 I God was responsible for the resurrection of the State of Israel. After 4 wars against 1 billion Muslims Israel came to life and Jews have the power to remain alive in a Jewish Israel.

It is this Jewish power that the great grandson of a Meshumed a Jew who is a traitor to the Jewish people and converts wants to prove that he is a greater anti Semite than his boss Obama who imbibed raw anti Semitism for 20 years while he attended Church in Chicago. When questioned about his attendance at this Church rather than the over 100 other Churches that he could have attended during the 20 years he was in Chicago . Obama's reply was that he did not listen to the anti-Semitism when the good Reverend preached anti Semitism. In other words Obama did not pay attention even once in 20 years while he attended services. Of Course we will believe him. Can one doubt the word of a sitting President of the USA ,especially when he is elected twice.

Of course Obama was not aware of any details regarding the notorious lack of security in Benghazi and the refusal of the State department to send reinforcements after the American embassy was attacked by terrorists. Obama is totally innocent and blameless for the murder of the American ambassador to Libya and the other Americans at Benghazi. Likewise, Obama is blameless for lying to the American people that they would be able to keep their health insurance if they so elect and not be forced to lose it and be forced to take an inferior brand at a higher cost as a result of Obama care.

Of course, Obama is blameless that all the Arab allies Saudi Arabia the Gulf States Egypt consider the Americans as not reliable and American pledges as not worth the paper they are written on.

So now Kerry and Obama want to force the Jewish people to become beholden to the same European anti Semites and lose Israel and the ability and power of defending Jewish life limb and property. Kerry wants to prove that since he considers himself as not Jewish he is a greater anti-Semite than Hitler. What ever Hitler left undone he and his boss Obama will complete.

I God created the whole world .
The whole world belongs to me. In order to enforce my decree I have set aside a sliver of land not larger than the State of New Jersey USA that belongs only to me- God. I elect to appoint the Jews who are alive today to take possession of my land the Holy land. Any one who contravenes my decree and tries to rob the Jews and transfers Israel to the Arabs / Palestinians will be penalized . “An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.” What he wants to do to the Jews he will suffer. I ordered in the Bible that the land of Israel is only for the Jews.

It is not for Obama Kerry the members of the European Union to contravene my order. I explicitly ordered that in the Bible. Obama Kerry and the Europeans say they read the Bible . But they think they are smarter than the Bible. They want to create their own international laws . They declare that Jews living in historical Judea Shomron Gaza Golan and old Jerusalem are in violation of the international laws that they created.

Hear this ...

One who digs a pit for an other to fall in will himself drop into that pit. One who prepares a scaffold for an other will himself hang.

In accordance with one of my sons the historian Toynbee many ancient nations / civilizations went through different stages. They were born developed matured conquered and enslaved other nations /civilizations. Then they grew old and tired. Eventually they themselves were conquered and destroyed by younger more aggressive and wiser nations /civilizations.

Toynbee is right.

It is about time that the countries comprising the European Union be destroyed.

I God will begin with the Amolek of the European Union-England . England today is a tenth class power . It is a nation ranking lower than Libya.

Then we go to France . Then we go to Spain . Of course Norway Sweden Switzerland all fall into the group who are candidates for destruction.

I God will then Kerry forth my Divine A bomba and let my Divine A bomba go into the English Channel . The explosion at the bottom of the Atlantic in the English channel of one trillion times the strength of the A bomba dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945 will cause a tsunami that will drown only the anti Semites. Those individuals who are friends of the Jews and the Jewish State of Israel will remain alive. In that way the whole world will have black and white proof that this tsunami is a miracle . The other anti Semites who hide their hatred of the Jew lying that they are only against the Zionists and supporting the rights of the Palestinians will die in a plague that no medicine exists or will ever exist to cure or prevent.

This portion of Europe should have been destroyed 2000 years ago. Alas that I God did not carry out my vengeance 2000 years ago. Billions of humans victimized by these sub humans in the body of people -these worse than animals or poisonous snakes- these innocent victims would have remained alive.

Ipsa facto the Kerry and the A bomba will self destruct. When I created Adam and Eve man/woman

I took all colors of the rainbow earth and clay to create them. The odor of the earth clay was refreshing like perfume and the fragrance of dew and flowers. However man/woman by their evil behavior and lies turn the fragrance to the worst repellant odor.

Unfortunately the Europeans
Obama and Kerry- by their lies devious designs and brazen exploitation of the special relationship that Israel has with the USA -stating that any criticism by Israel of USA fraudulent conduct and pressure tactics is offensive toward the USA and shows a lack of appreciation for all the military and economic and political support offered Israel by the USA. In other words because of all the aid Israel has received Israel is obligated to agree to commit suicide. Israel is obliged to agree to Jump off the roof. Israel was not negotiating with the Palestinians. It was the Americans who were exploiting their friendship to intimidate Israel that if they refused and dared oppose agreeing to jump off the roof to their death, American help would stop.

The HELL with American aid and help. With such friends as Obama and Kerry one need not have any enemies. The best of your non Jewish friends proclaim KILL THE JEW.

The punishment that I God have reserved for these individuals will be a blessing for all the world.

I God swear with my right arm lifted to heaven that this blessing will occur.

So said and sworn and stamped

My Encounters With The Lubavitcher Rebbe

BY ARIEL SHARON

My relationship with the Rebbe began in 1967. That year, my son Gur was killed in a tragic shooting accident. Shortly after that, I received a letter from the Rebbe, which I saved and still cherish.

Some time later, I met him in person for the first time, the first of many meetings I was privileged to have. I will never forget how he looked into my eyes with his piercing, but very warm, eyes.

Through our conversation we discussed many issues.

I knew that from the time of the Russian Revolution of 1917, the only people who managed to keep contact with the besieged Jewish community in the Soviet Union were Chabad, and I knew that the Rebbe had great influence. So I asked him to put pressure on the Soviets. This was a time when, for public-relations reasons, the Soviet Union was starting to allow musicians and artists to leave. I thought that we should be putting more pressure on the Soviets, and then more Jews would be allowed to leave.

The Rebbe did not agree. He said that we should be very careful with the Soviets. It was the time of Brezhnev—it was a tough period in Russia. We should be careful, he said, because we can never know what their reaction will be. "But it will not take too many years," he continued, "before the doors will open." I remember the conversation: "Everything in the world is becoming more

As a general in the Israeli army, the commander of the southern front, I had a real struggle in the years after the Six Day War. We were sitting on the banks of the Suez Canal, where we were facing the Soviets and the Egyptians, and a debate raged amongst the generals about how best to defend the Sinai.

open. There are millions of students in the country, and it will be impossible for Russia to remain closed. There's no doubt a change will take place there." And, as a matter of fact, that's exactly what happened. The Rebbe had anticipated this, as he anticipated many things.

We were heavily dependent on the Bar-Lev line, which was a series of fortifications along the eastern coast of the Suez Canal. There was a bitter conflict about this in the Israeli command—whether the Bar-Lev line was an effective barrier against an Egyptian attack.

The Rebbe knew about this conflict, and he sent me a letter describing the disaster that would happen to the Jewish people—the terrible damage and tragedy that this Bar-Lev line would bring. He anticipated the fall of the Bar-Lev line, and wrote that it would not hold up under attack. He understood the military problem and analyzed it as a military expert. A few years later, in October of 1973, the Egyptians attacked, starting the Yom Kippur War. Tragically, there was terrible damage, just as he had predicted.

The Rebbe was perhaps the greatest believer I've ever met in the God-given strength of the Jewish people. He most definitely believed in the strength of the Jewish nation, and he felt that Jews don't believe enough in their own strength.

The Rebbe once said to me, "The Jewish people must be mobilized." When I concurred that they must be organized, he corrected me, meanwhile demonstrating his exceptional wisdom and wit: "Not organized," he said. "What does it mean to organize the Jewish people? A few Jewish leaders get together for dinner, and the next day the newspapers report that they came to the conclusion that they must get together for another dinner..."

"When it comes to the Jewish people, a different approach must be taken. The Jewish people must be directed, instructed—they must be shown what needs to get done. It's not about organizing the Jewish people, it's about mobilizing them."

Although I am not a religious Jew, I am a Jew, and for me, to be a Jew is the most important thing. I worry about the future of the Jewish people, and I believe that Jewish education is very, very important. So I was very much impressed that this was his most important mission—to spread Jewish education around the world. Wherever I traveled around the world, I'd meet people who had been sent out by the Rebbe to provide Jewish children with a Jewish education.

Whenever I had an opportunity, I would speak to university students. I would say to them, "The Jewish people are a nation. Judaism is not only a religion—it is a combination of religion and nationalism. Take pride that you are part of the greatest nation in the world."

When I shared this with the Rebbe, he asked me, "But what did you tell them to do?"

"To identify as Jews," I replied.

The Rebbe responded: "For a young person who grew up in a traditional Jewish household, perhaps identifying as a Jew will hold him for one generation, but this alone will not guarantee the future of the Jewish people. Identification must be coupled with action—with practical observance of the commandments."

The Rebbe went on to explain that everything in Judaism is connected with action—settling the Land of Israel is an action, keeping Shabbat is an action...

One can always add, the Rebbe continued; no one is perfect. "I, too, am not complete in the mitzvos. The fact that I do not live in the Land of Israel makes me incomplete." I saw greatness in hearing such words from his mouth.

The Rebbe believed that the Jews must stop trying to find favor in the eyes of foreign nations. Public relations is an important thing, but it is not the main thing. The main effort must be Jews focusing on Jews. ♦

True Through and Through

Based on an essay by Rabbi Heschel Greenberg

In this week's Torah portion, Yisro, Moshe's father-in-law, admonished Moshe for the way he unilaterally judged the Jewish people and encouraged him to appoint judges to share the burden. One of the qualifications for a judge was to be a "man of truth."

Why was this stipulation necessary? Would it have occurred to appoint a dishonest judge?

Emet, truth, the Talmud states, is a composite of three letters: an Aleph, Mem and Tav: the first, middle and last letters of the Hebrew alphabet. This is emet: consistent from the beginning to the end.

The word sheker, falsehood, begins with the letter Shin, which means tooth. In fact, the letter Shin resembles the teeth and it requires the use of the teeth to pronounce.

The shin at the beginning of the word sheker is emblematic of the physical world, where everything eventually disintegrates and ceases to exist. Something that looks appealing and appetizing ("toothsome") does not end up that way. Whatever we eat is eventually digested and eliminated as waste.

Emet, in contrast, endures with the same intensity and beauty as it did on day one. Emet begins with the letter Aleph, meaning Master – an allusion to G-d, the ultimate Master of the world, Who is not subject to the whims and caprice of any other force.

The second letter of the word Sheker is the kuf, which means monkey or ape. It closely resembles and "apes" the letter Hei, one of the letters of G-d's name. While there is nothing false in the art of imitation, it is nevertheless inauthentic. The external appearance belies the inner nature of the person who lacks emet.

The second letter of emet is the mem, which denotes mayim, water. This is an allusion to a time when, as the prophet states, "The world will be filled with the knowledge of G-d as the waters cover the sea." The world will be thoroughly deluged, inside and out, with knowledge and truth.

The last letter of sheker is resh, which means impoverished, as in the verse, "And the rash – poor person – has nothing." He doesn't even have the modicum of integrity of the kuf, the imitator brand of sheker.

Countering the resh is the tav, the final letter of emet. The word tav means a mark or sign that was employed in the past to brand someone. According to the Talmud, it was used to brand with the word tichyeh, "he will live," which is also an allusion to the Resurrection of the Dead, at which time we will live forever. The tav is G-d's mark guaranteeing life in its fullest and richest sense.

Moshiach possesses the three components of the virtue of emet.

Moshiach is a master of his body and environment. He possesses the Aleph of emet and therefore is eminently qualified to place the Aleph in the word golah – exile – that transforms it to Geulah – Redemption.

Moshiach's entire being is permeated with Torah, inside and outside. As such, he will usher in the age when knowledge of G-d will totally permeate our entire being. This parallels the letter mem of the word emet.

And finally, according to the Midrash, Moshiach will accumulate all the wealth in the world. He will usher in the age about which it is stated, "The delicacies will be as abundant as the dust of the earth." One way of preparing for this age is to endeavor to introduce emet, consistency, harmony between the inside and the outside, and the acquisition of enduring spiritual wealth. ■

Rabbi Dovid Shvedik

I was born in Rostov, Russia, to a Jewish family that was not Torah-observant. We did not even observe Passover or Yom Kippur. Ironically, the ones who informed me of Jewishness were classmates who taunted me for being Jewish. I had no idea what being Jewish meant, but I knew that I had to hide this fact and that it was not a source of pride. At a young age I wondered where G-d was and how to connect to Him, but I did not know how to obtain a satisfying answer.

When I was 27, after earning a degree in highway engineering, I married a local gentile woman whom I knew from school.

Marriage deepened my inner hunger for G-dliness. One day, I registered for a course in yoga. In addition to the exercises, the teachers also taught Eastern philosophy. The title of the course was fascinating and I hoped to find the answers to my questions, but I did not.

One day, upon the advice of a good friend, I decided to check out Christianity. I went into a church hoping to find what I was seeking. The ceremonies were impressive but as the days passed, I had more and more questions. The priest, who heard my questions, was furious. I realized that someone who is angered by questions has not made peace with his chosen path.

I kept searching. The one that Heaven sent to extricate me was my cousin, whom I told about my search. He told me that the place for a Jew seeking spirituality is a synagogue. I was such an ignoramus that I didn't even know what he was talking about.

This cousin was about to make aliya and he would visit the shul in Rostov in order to learn Hebrew. One Erev Shabbos, I went to the shul where I met many young people my age who were singing and dancing. It was a pleasant atmosphere. Then there was a hush and in walked a distinguished looking man, a Chabad chassid, Rabbi Sholom Ber Stambler. He addressed us saying, "To be a Jew is not to enjoy Jewish folklore but to learn Torah." I was fascinated by what he said and that very day I arranged to learn with him.

Within a week I felt that I had found what I had been looking for. I had sensed all along that there is a Creator, but Rabbi Stambler taught me how to serve Him. I came to the realization that I could no longer continue living with a non-Jew and I informed her of this.

My wife, who had been a partner to my spiritual searching, immediately told me that she wanted to convert to Judaism. At that point, we had to part ways. She went to Moscow to a Jewish seminary where she studied for several years, and I went to Israel. We had an eleven-year-old daughter, and we sent her to study in a Jewish school in Moscow, in the hopes that she would also want to convert.

While I was in Israel, my wife completed her conversion. I returned to Moscow and we married properly, according to Jewish law. We were determined to become emissaries of the Rebbe ourselves, for it was only thanks to the Rebbe's emissaries that I had discovered my own Judaism. I identified deeply with them and wanted to help other Jews discover their roots.

Changing the world... for good!

Answer

In King Solomon's times, the world reached a unique state of perfection. Indeed, Solomon (Shlomo) was called by his name since there was shalom (peace) in his times.

King Solomon's name was praised throughout the world by all the surrounding nations. Through him, G-d's name was sanctified as well. A steady stream of people from the most distant lands flocked to the Land of Israel to witness the glory of Solomon and the Holy Temple that he built, and to bask in his wisdom. Chassidic teachings explain that the gentiles that were drawn to King Solomon also brought with them the sparks of holiness that were scattered in their respective nations. Shlomo was able to elevate these sparks passively, without having to leave his palace. The sparks came to him, of their own accord.

Moreover, the fact that the gentiles came to visit Shlomo was a function of these sparks of holiness. Unwittingly, the people were drawn along by their holy sparks and were inspired with a desire to visit Jerusalem. The Book of Kings describes the visit of the Queen of Sheba to Shlomo: "The Queen of Sheba heard the news of Shlomo, in the name of G-d." In other words, the name of G-d that dwelled upon Shlomo reached the Queen of Sheba, and this drew her, together with her sparks of holiness, to Jerusalem.

However, although the sparks of holiness were drawn to Shlomo, they still had to be brought to Jerusalem in order to be elevated. In the days of Moshiach, we will reach an even higher state of perfection, in which the sparks will be elevated even without reaching Jerusalem. They will remain in their places around the world, and the powerful G-dly energy that will be revealed at the Redemption will cause these sparks to be elevated. As a result, even those nations that are currently in a very low spiritual state will also be elevated. Just as in King Shlomo's times, when the nations were inspired to visit Jerusalem, all the nations will be inspired to recognize G-d, and "On that day, G-d will be One and His name One. ■

Long Live the Rebbe King Moshiach Forever and Ever!

All cells in the body start out as stem cells, undifferentiated cells that have the potential to develop into any cell type, a power called pluripotency. Once they differentiate, however, they lose this ability. This very versatility is one of the main obstacles to using embryonic stem cells for medical purposes. Because they change and develop so rapidly, it is difficult to fix them in one state long enough to use them for any productive purpose.

Since 2006, scientists have been able to take mature cells and induce them to return to their original pluripotent state. However, this process was slow and inefficient, and many cells became stuck somewhere in the process and never reverted fully. In a recent breakthrough, Israeli scientists have discovered that by removing just one gene, Mbd3, the mature cells all reverted to stem cells with nearly 100% efficiency. The research, led by Dr. Jacob Hanna and published in the journal "Nature," gives rise to new hopes that stem cells can be used to treat genetic and neurodegenerative disorders, and even to grow artificial organs for transplant.

The stem cell is a biological representation of a spiritual source that we all have within us, part of our essential soul structure. Every Jewish soul has its stem, its essence, from which our entire character and personality is built. Like the stem cell, the soul originally starts out with almost unlimited potential, to do and become almost anything.

However, once the soul is placed into a body and descends to earth, it goes through a process of "differentiation," by which it develops its own unique character. It is influenced by the conditions of its birth and upbringing, as well as choices made by the individual over the course of life. In time, it can be very difficult to change these innate or acquired traits – but underneath it all, the "stem" of the soul is always present, always available to make profound changes and revert to an earlier, more perfect and innocent stage.

Very soon, the powers that have been hidden deep within us for so long will finally come to the surface. Even more amazing, our limited minds and personalities will be able to contain the most marvelous revelations of G-dliness without losing our identity in the process. This will enable us to recognize G-d and develop a relationship with Him on an unprecedented scale, with the true and complete Redemption. ■
